

Immerse your group in American Jewish history with a joint visit to

Congregation Mikveh Israel

and

The National Museum of American Jewish History

NMAJH interior, floor 4
Credit: M. Helzner for NMAJH

KKMI building interior, 2011
Credit: J. Smith for GPTMC.

KKMI building interior, 1859
Credit: Mikveh Israel

NMAJH interior, floor 2
Credit: George Feder

Visit the Museum and immerse yourself in 350+ years of American Jewish history through interactive exhibitions, telling artifacts, original films and more.

Then, at Mikveh Israel, experience the traditions of this active 200+ year-old, Sephardic congregation.

Visits may be augmented with a tour of the Mikveh Israel Cemetery (availability varies seasonally).

From America's Bicentennial until 2010, the Museum shared its home with Mikveh Israel.

A visit to both institutions allows an unparalleled experience whereby visitors can explore American Jewish life from the Colonial period to modern day.

Call 215.923.3811 x 141 and allow us to arrange this enriching experience for you.

All joint visits must be arranged in advance. One month's notice is recommended.

TOTAL TIME = 4 hours* (3 at NMAJH + 1 at Mikveh Israel)

* Times listed are approximate and depend on visitor preferences.

Mikveh Israel and the Museum are located one block apart.

TOTAL PRICE = Packages start at $15 and are available for groups of 15 or more people.