

Tablet

The Scroll

ON VIEW: ALL THE JEWISH ART YOU NEED TO SEE THIS WEEK, DECEMBER 8TH EDITION

Hannukah mayhem in Austin, the Coen brothers in New York, screens in San Francisco

By Alexandra Pucciarelli

December 8, 2017 • 12:00 PM

Each week, the Scroll highlights upcoming exhibits, performances, and cultural events around the country.

Philadelphia

The National Museum of American Jewish History presents Power of Protest: The Movement to Free Soviet Jews, on view through early next year. This exhibit features the personal stories of American Jewish activists and Soviet Jews known as refuseniks. It relies on graphics rather than physical artifacts to convey this tumultuous time in Jewish history. (Through Jan. 15, 2018; adult admission $13.)